#ENTREPRENEUR

As you might be aware, creating a social media strategy that actually works in terms of brand authority and sales is a major problem.

There are four main reasons most brands are completely failing at digital marketing: 1. A lack of consistent brand exposure. 2. A lack of intimacy and brand authenticity. 3. A lack of relevance and 4. A lack of proper leverage. You NEED to be Frequent, Intimate, and Relevant on social media, but you must also be Efficient.

Hi I'm Tyler Kemp, founder of RollSocial.co and LeadRoll.co, I work with small businesses, influencers, and sales/service professionals just like you to help you cut through the noise and own the attention of your market.

I'd love to talk about how I've helped hundreds of sales professionals scale their marketing using the principles found in our F.I.R.E. Formula. That is Frequency, Intimacy, Relevancy, and Efficient.

I am a systems and process guy and I would love to share what I've learned with your audience.
